Matters arising from December's management meeting

The Shed will be ordering shirts with the logo from our new sponsor, Roleystone Real Estate. If you need a new Shed shirt then please speak to Phil.

We will be purchasing a small shed to house and locate the dust extractor outside the wood-turning sea container.

We were unsuccessful in getting a grant for the establishment of a community garden but will try again in the next round. This also means that the purchase of a third sea container needs to be delayed as will the move of the main dust extractor to outside the back wall of the workshop.

U3A have hired our meeting room in February and March 2024, which means some income to help offset our running costs.

Malcolm is still finishing taking photos of all members, so if you know that he has not taken yours then please see him. He is in the Shed on Saturdays.

The management committee plans to set up a sub-committee mid-year to organise the 2024 Christmas dinner. If you are interested in being on such a committee then make yourself known to one of our committee members.

Waterwheel Witters – Ian has taken on the job of a monthly newsletter. It will not be as flashy as the previous version, but you will get regular updates on what your committee is up to. Give Ian any stories you want to see in it.

John Stenhouse has taken on the role of organising our guest speakers. So, if you have any ideas for good speakers then let John know.

We need a member to supervise market days for Bedforddale and Roleystone - the next Roleystone Market is on 25 February 2024 from 9am-2pm. If are up for the job, then see Phil.

We will be approaching the Council to have a 40' or 20' sea container to be placed at the rear of the Shed on the grassed area but raised up to existing Shed floor level.

We will also be seeking from Council an extension of the Shed lease to include the garden area. Our lease currently only covers the building.

Waterwheel Caravanners are planning another trip

Graham Hantler is organising another trip for the Waterwheel Caravanners groups after their successful outing last year. The planned itinerary so far is as follows:

- 21 March: drive to the Boddington free stay camping area.
- 22-23 March: stay at Katanning Caravan Park to enjoy the Katanning Harmony Festival.
- 24 March: Kojonnup free stay camping area ($5 to the Shire)
- 25-26 March: stay at the Lakeside Camping by Towerining Lake.

Graham is still working on the trip and promises more to come. So keep checking the notice board in the meeting room for updates.

This space is vacant

If you have any news you want to share with your fellow shed members or have something to sell then send me your words and I will include it in next month's edition of the Shed News.
